Detailed Description Text - DETX (209):

For example, the same advertising "slot" can be sold in varying proportions to several advertisers, with individual readers' pages randomly receiving the advertisement of one advertiser or another, overall preserving the proportion of space sold to each advertiser.

Detailed Description Text - DETX (211):

Because personalization and localization are handled automatically by netpage publication servers, an advertising aggregator can provide arbitrarily broad coverage of both geography and demographics. The subsequent disaggregation is efficient because it is automatic. This makes it more cost-effective for publishers to deal with advertising aggregators than to directly capture advertising. Even though the advertising aggregator is taking a proportion of advertising revenue, publishers may find the change profit-neutral because of the greater efficiency of aggregation. The advertising aggregator acts as an intermediary between advertisers and publishers, and may place the same advertisement in multiple publications.

Detailed Description Text - DETX (213):

42-48
Once placement has been negotiated, the aggregator captures and edits the advertisement and records it on a netpage ad server. Correspondingly, the publisher records the ad placement on the relevant netpage publication server. When the netpage publication server lays out each user's personalized publication, it picks the relevant advertisements from the netpage ad server.

1 Cooperation in MAS: Helping based on future expectations 84%

Sabyasachi Saha , Sandip Sen , Partha Sarathi Dutta

Proceedings of the second international joint conference on Autonomous agents and multiagent systems July 2003

Autonomous agents interacting in an open world can be considered to be primarily driven by self interests. Previous work in this area has prescribed a strategy of reciprocal behavior, based on past interactions, for promoting and sustaining cooperation among such self-interested agents. Here we present a new mechanism where agents base their decisions both on historical data as well as on future interaction expectations. A decision mechanism is presented that compares current helping cost with e ...

Sandip Sen , Partha Sarathi Dutta

Proceedings of the first international joint conference on Autonomous agents and multiagent systems: part 3 July 2002

Recent works in multi-agent systems have identified agent behaviors that can develop and sustain mutually beneficial cooperative relationships with like-minded agents and can resist exploitation from selfish agents. Researchers have proposed the use of a probabilistic reciprocity scheme that uses summary information from past interactions to decide whether or not to honor a request for help from another agent. This behavior has been found to be close to optimal in homogeneous groups and outperfo ...
